
Swades - The Home Coming is a Hindi drama film, released in 2004. It was jointly produced by India's UTV Motion Pictures and Hollywood studio Warner Bros. Swades - The Home Coming stars Shahrukh Khan alongside Gayatri Joshi, Danny Denzongpa, Nana Patekar, Rekha, Puru Rajkumar and Seema Biswas. The story of the film revolves around Mohan Bhargava (Shahrukh Khan) who leaves his work in New York to return to his childhood home in rural India for the funeral of his grandmother who lived her entire life there. Mohan finds that the town has changed, but it is still under the control of his uncle (Danny Denzongpa) who runs a local political party. Mohan's arrival brings him into conflict with both his uncle and cousin Jai (Danny Denzongpa). Jai, an ambitious young man wants to take over the position of Mayor in order to get out of poverty. Jai also does not approve of Mohan's plans of opening a new school where students who have lost their parents can attend. Mohan attempts to befriend the people of the town by helping them solve their problems, but his attempts are taken advantage of by both Jai and his Uncle. Mohan tries to reconnect with his estranged cousin and find a solution to the town's problems, but he is faced with opposition from all sides, including Jai's wife Priyanka (Reema Sen). Ultimately Mohan and his grandmother reconcile and Mohan decides to stay in Swades.

The film was launched on 25 September 2004 at The Leela Palace in Mumbai. It was also the first M-A Production venture of UTV Motion Pictures after their partnership with Viacom18 Motion Pictures (now known as 20th Century Fox), who bought SKB Entertainment in 2004. The movie grossed 1.3 Billion Rupees (US$26 million) worldwide. The soundtrack of the film was composed by Shankar Ehsaan Loy. The music of this album was released on 19 January 2004. Lyrics were written by Javed Akhtar. The playback singing was provided by Hariharan, Sunidhi Chauhan, Shaan, Udit Narayan and Kavita Krishnamurthy. The song "Holi Aayi Re" is based on "Shalom Aleichem" from the 1930s Broadway musical "Fiddler on the Roof". The movie received positive reviews in India. Audiences praised its story, the acting of Shahrukh Khan, direction and cinematography. The film went on to win many awards, including the National Film Award for Best Popular Film Providing Wholesome Entertainment at the 48th annual ceremony of the Indian Directorate of Film Festivals. It also won 6 Filmfare Awards, including Best Movie Award for UTV Motion Pictures and Best Actor Award for Shahrukh Khan. The movie won an award in Tamil Nadu state film awards. The film was nominated for best film in the 2004 British Academy Awards.

Anita Kapoor is the daughter of noted Bollywood actress, Nutan and playback singer, Mohammad Rafi. She made her Bollywood debut with "Swades". Prior to that she acted in a few television serials in India.
